PARTS BULLETIN No. 03-11

22-08-11

Subject: PART NO LONGER AVAILABLE - AUSPLOW DT SHANK

Effective immediately the following part is obsolete and will no longer be available;

2001 Shank - Ausplow Deep Ripper

The Ausplow Deep Ripper was last manufactured for the 1998/99 season and stocks of replacement shanks have been exhausted. The material originally used for the shank manufacture is no longer available, and the dies used for forging the base of the shank are no longer serviceable.

Alternative materials and manufacturing methods have been explored, but it has proved uneconomic.

As an alternative, owners of Ausplow Deep Rippers can fit one of our current Easitill II Deep Ripper Tine Assemblies, as a direct replacement for an Ausplow DT Tine Assembly.

The Easitill II - 750mm Tine Assembly, Part No. 2201, uses the same Durablade, running at the same depth, as the Ausplow DT Tine. While there are differences in appearance, the two tine assemblies can be mixed on a machine without problems.

The RRP for P/No. 2201 Easitill II Tine Assy - 750mm is $1410.00 + GST.
